

WHEN TO SAY “NO”

There are times when it's OK for you to say “no” to an adult. If someone is touching you in a way you don't like, hurting you, or trying to take you somewhere, you have the right to stand up for yourself and say “NO!”

If you think you should say “no” in these situations, write a big “NO” under the picture.

Your coach gives you a quick pat on the shoulder and says “good job.”

A man at the park grabs your arm and tries to get you to leave with him.

2

A woman at the store takes your hand and wants you to go outside with her.

3

Your aunt gives you a hug on your birthday.
